NIKE SITE OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY

Needle-nosed, sleek, deadly Nike air defense missiles will be displayed and explained at the Torrance Battery Nike Site Saturday, according to Capt. Daniel T. Mahoney, battery commander. The captain, who lives at 127 Via Sego, said the site would be open from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. The launching area is located adjacent the Torrance Municipal Airport on Crenshaw Blvd. "During the open house," the captain said, "conducted tours of the Nike base will be scheduled. The Nike system will be explained and demonstrated."

The Torrance site, one of 16 of the 108th Air Defense Missile Group which is responsible for the defense of Los Angeles, is open the first Saturday each month for public inspection.

S. Goodwin, secretary; Mrs. George Thompson, corresponding secretary, and Ralph Wise, treasurer.

Proposed changes in the constitution of the League to be offered at the March meeting were announced at the January meeting.
